INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

The present catalogue may be considered a supplement to Mr. Henry F. Jenks' "Catalogue of the Boston Public Latin School," published in 1886. Unlike that work, which includes the names of all boys who ever registered as students, the present work includes only those who completed the school course, and graduated between the years 1816 and 1917. The basis of the catalogue is the manuscript volume labelled "Records of the Public Latin School," which contains lists of the graduating classes kept by successive head masters from Benjamin Apthorp Gould in 1816 to the present time. Diplomas of graduation were first conferred by the Boston School Committee in 1863, and from 1868 to 1907 the names of graduates are printed in its annual reports. The manuscript records of graduates kept by the head masters have been carefully checked with these printed lists and with the manuscript "Results of Diploma Examinations," preserved in the School Committee's rooms. Before 1868 the manuscript record book is the authority used for the present catalogue. When there has been reasonable doubt whether or not a boy graduated, his name has been included. After 1863 the one unanswerable argument for inclusion would be the existence of his diploma.

Lack of space prevents individual acknowledgment of assistance rendered, but any completeness and accuracy which the list may have is in great measure due to the many graduates and teachers who have given generously of their time and attention. Mr. Horace H. Morse of the class of 1896 has kindly contributed the list of head masters and instructors.

Abbreviations used are, it is believed, self-explanatory, except the asterisk (*), which denotes death, and the F. placed after the names of those who received Franklin medals. Information as to the Franklin medals has been obtained from the annual catalogues of the school and from the list in Mr. Jenks' catalogue of 1886 which has been collated with the manuscript record of graduates to which allusion has already been made. The attempt has been made to state the present occupation of each living graduate up to the class of 1911. Inclusion of this information hastens the time when the book will be in some measure out of date, but the information given will always have interest as providing a sectional view of the activities of our graduates just as our country is being engulfed in the great world war. Military appointments received purely as a result of the war have been given only when other information as to the person's occupation is without value; it is too early now to sum up the part being played by the Latin School in the conflict. No attempt has been made to indicate temporary attendance at schools and colleges; the names of such institutions have been indicated only when the person received a degree or, in the case of institutions not giving degrees, when he completed the entire course. The data for Harvard men have been taken largely from class reports and from the publications and files of the Harvard alumni office except when the information so obtained was not sufficiently recent. In such cases the editor has resorted to correspondence and the telephone. An attempt has been made to reach all non-Harvard men by correspondence.

Persons who consult the book are urged to send to the Head Master of the school or to the editor notices of errors and omissions.
